

The Most Complete Sales Tax Permit Service for Amazon.com FBA Sellers

Video Overview

Did you know there is much more to applying for a sales tax permit than just filling out a sales tax application? States may require your business entity to foreign qualify as a first step, or to foreign register after you apply for a permit, which includes other steps and fees. If you make a mistake with a state application and receive a rejection notice, you may spend hours on the phone attempting to clear it up. States are not consistent in their process and procedures and this creates a lot of room for costly mistakes to be made. Here is our list of top mistakes to avoid.

The Top Costly Sales Tax Permit Application Mistakes to Avoid:

- 1 Online Advice. Relying on what someone else did in a Facebook Group when they applied for a Sales Tax Permit is likely to lead you in the wrong direction and cause you costly mistakes. It's simply not worth following their lead and dealing with the possibility of monetary penalties or being accused of sales tax evasion.
- 2 Inaccurate Applications. Submitting a sales tax application online or via a PDF with mistakes, incomplete information or missing documentation are crucial errors that will cause delays to your application process, up to 1 to 2 months, costing you unnecessary financial penalties with interest.
- 3 International Applicants without a Social Security Number. Not knowing how to submit an application without a U.S. Social Security Number (SSN) will most certainly cause delays, especially for overseas Amazon FBA Sellers. We can help you fill out and file your applications right the first time.
- 4 When To File, When Not To File. Not knowing which states to file right away or which states you need to wait to apply for sales permits and what your start date is, is best left up to the professionals at Sales Tax Systems in order to avoid fraud penalties and unnecessary audits.
- 5 Foreign Registration/Qualification Mistakes. Not knowing which U.S. states require entities in the U.S. or internationally to foreign register/qualify in a state before or after you register for permits will lead to unwelcome surprises down the road.
- 6 Forgetting/Not Knowing To Open Tax Accounts. You will need tax accounts opened in order to remit sales tax to each state's Department of Revenue. Some states do this automatically, others require multiple steps that you need to make sure you get correct or otherwise your mistakes could lead to numerous problems in the near distant future.

Our Complete 10-Step Sales Tax Permit Process:

Step 1. Order Permits. Choose one of our bundled packages below. State fees are separate and vary based upon the states you elect. Total in all 25 FBA states is $202.00. You will be sent a separate payment link after your application is submitted.

Step 2. Review our Next Steps to Approve Applying for Permits. Before we apply for your chosen sales tax permits, you will be provided with a list of specific states that require extra steps that you will want to know about before you finalize which states you want us to apply for you on the application (next step). These extra steps may include foreign qualification into a state before or after applying for permits and the fees associated with these states.

Step 3. Complete Sales Tax System Application. You will receive an email with a sales tax system general application form to complete, via a secure online link. We provide access to a video overview to walk you through the application. You will be able to mark the appropriate check boxes for the states you require, your start date with sales, and estimated sales amounts per state. Once you select and submit, we will receive the application to review within 24-48 hours.

Step 4. Complete and Finalize Tax Permit Applications. Before we apply for your chosen sales tax permits, our team of experts will complete any extra steps that are required prior to submitting your application(s) for obtaining your sales tax permits.

Step 5. Payment of Additional State Fees. You will receive an email with an itemization of any state fees, plus a payment link. You will also receive a list of next steps, including states that require additional steps after registration, to verify if you want us to move forward and apply.

Step 6. Apply for your Sales Tax Permits. The Sales Tax System team will prudently submit and track your applications to your chosen states, both online and by mail.

Step 7. Sales Tax Permit Summary Document. You will receive a comprehensive spreadsheet report in a secure Google Drive folder with all your sales tax permit information and the different stages each state is in.

Step 8. Next Step Documents. You will also receive documents within your secure Google Drive folder advising you which states you will need to open tax accounts in order to remit sales tax (and steps for those states). In most states, the tax accounts are opened automatically, but not all.

Step 9. Update Amazon Seller Central. Once you receive your permits from the states, you will be able to update your Amazon Seller Central Account tax settings with a "cheat sheet" that we will provide to you.

Step 10. Remit Sales Tax. We will introduce you to our preferred sales tax remittance partner who can assist with remitting sales tax in all states required.
